

Making Friends

Clear Creek is a fun place to spend a week with all your friends. It's also a great place to make new friends. Making new friends isn't always easy and is kind of like baking cookies; you need to know the right ingredients and how to combine them. Have you ever made cookies or watched someone make them? Use the space below to write a recipe for a friend.

Recipe for a friend
Takes: 20 minutes to prepare and a lifetime to perfect.
Serves: Everyone around you.

Here are 10 ingredients I think are important for friendships:

Here is how I think these ingredients should be combined so I can make friends at Clear Creek:

If you forget one important ingredient, your cookies may not turn out correctly. Friendships can be the same. What happens when you make cookies without sugar? Have you ever tasted a bitter cookie? Have you ever burned a cookie? Burned a friendship? Start making friends now! Put everything you have into it. When you come to Clear Creek you will be able to take everything you know about making friends and put it to use.
