- Monitors the progress of pending State and federal legislation and regulations by referring to appropriate publications and contacting legislative or congressional offices.
- Performs related duties as assigned.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS AMONG RELATED CLASSES

A Legislative Analyst compiles staff comments and other information, makes analysis and writes materials such as reports regarding proposed legislation and governmental regulations, and attends meetings to provide information and report on proceedings concerning legislation and regulations.

A Senior Legislative Analyst supervises, participates in, and coordinates the work of Legislative Analysts and clerical personnel, represents the District at meetings of other agencies and community groups, and performs the more complex legislative or governmental regulations analysis.

An Assistant Legislative Analyst compiles staff comments and other information and performs the less complex analysis of legislation and governmental regulations affecting the District. This class is differentiated from the class of Legislative Analyst by the scope and difficulty of assignments and the degree of independence exercised.

SUPERVISION

General supervision is received from the Director of Legislative Affairs and Governmental Relations. Supervision may be exercised over clerical personnel.
